

Freeman, 35, Dies After Hemorrhage

Funeral services for George Heber Freeman, Jr., 3304 West 189th street, were held in the Halverton-Leavell chapel by Rev. W. J. Lowe Tuesday, with burial following in Green Hills cemetery.

Mr. Freeman died May 17 of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered May 8 while at work at Douglas Aircraft in Torrance.

He was born in Brinkley, Arkansas, June 8, 1921. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Eulalia M. Freeman, three sons, Patrick M., Michael D., and Emmett R., a daughter, Charlotte Marie, a brother, Ernest M. Freeman, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Freeman, all of Torrance, and two grandmothers, Mrs. Effie Mushrush of Hunter, Arkansas, and Mrs. Annie S. Freeman, of Little Rock, Arkansas.

pall bearers were Edward Brady, E. W. Hamilton, Leonard Moriyama, John Emanuel, John Salisbury and Gerald Staffieri. Robert Salisbury assisted with the music.

Mr. Freeman was a graduate of Little Rock High school and junior college. He joined the Army Air Force August 13, 1942, and was called to active service while a senior at Creighton University, Omaha, Nebraska.

He received his wings as a fighter pilot in 1944. He served as a flight instructor; attended Statistical Control School; and finished with a tour of bombing missions in Korea.

He moved to Torrance in 1952 and has been with Douglas since 1953.

Need For Pharmacists Very Great

"WANTED: Bright, responsible young men and women for indoor jobs in pleasant surroundings. Starting salaries in retail practice $100-135 per week. Promotion possibilities unlimited. Look to your future in Pharmacy - the field in which there is no limit to opportunity."

Such an ad would sound like the answer to a college graduate's prayer.

However, such jobs with advantages and promise in the enormously expanding field of Pharmacy are going begging today in the nation's well over five-billion-dollar-a-year retail drug industry in its 52,000 drug stores.

Enrollment in the 75 Colleges of Pharmacy has not held up to the post-war peak (1949-1950). It is now down almost 20 percent below that period.

In addition to a Bachelors Degree from an accredited College of Pharmacy requiring four years of college study, a period of internship in a drug store is required before the graduate is entitled to take the State Board of Pharmacy examination.

In most states this period is one year, and it may be done during the summer vacation periods, after which he will be permitted to take the State Board examination. Upon successful completion of this examination the pharmacist is registered and receives a license to practice pharmacy. And he doesn't have to pound the pavements looking for work.

The jobs are there waiting. And there are plenty of openings at the top. There is a big need for drug store managers. A man can work himself up to the $50,000 a year class, or higher, just as he can in any other field.

Owners of pharmacies make more money on the average than either dentists or lawyers.
